

Russian Troops In Sight of Warsaw On Road To Berlin

East Bank Of Polish Capital's Suburbs Under Artillery Fire

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Sunday, July 30.—(P)—Russian troops yesterday fought within sight of Warsaw, bombarded half-way mark in the offensive rolling along the road to Berlin, while in the north other Soviet units surged across the southern Latvian border in their swift drive against the almost-encircled Nazi armies of the Baltic.

Warsaw's east bank suburbs were under Soviet artillery attack.

Berlin said the Russians in the north were only 20 miles from the Gulf of Riga, fighting fiercely in the Jelgava area in their effort to complete a trap on 200,000 to 300,000 Germans under Col. Gen. Georg Lindemann.

Jelgava, a strategic rail junction and Riga, Latvian capital, port on the Baltic, both were hammered heavily by Soviet bombers Friday night. "Several enemy troop trains were smashed or burned out," the communiqué said, indicating that the Germans already were trying to flee Estonia and Latvia.

Take 200 Villages

Gen. Ivan Bagration's First Baltic armies captured more than 200 villages in this push toward the Baltic coast, including Zaare, on the Lithuanian-Latvian border 42 miles south of the Gulf, Moscow said. Farther south other units closing in on Kaunas, former Lithuanian capital, captured Karmelava, less than six miles northeast of Kaunas, which is a German bastion protecting the road to German East Prussia. The fall of Kaunas was regarded as near.

The Moscow communiqué announced the capture of a total of 1,320 towns and villages during the day, and said the Russians attacking below Warsaw had completely cleared the enemy from a 60-mile section of the east bank of the Vistula river—last Axis defense line before Germany itself.

The cleared area was between Dablin and where the San empties into the Vistula, 100 miles southeast of Warsaw.

This indicated that Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's First White Russian forces were getting ready to leap the Vistula for a flanking move on Warsaw from the south and also perhaps drive straight westward toward Germany.

Cross San River

In southern Poland Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian armies had hurdled the San river on a broad front in the arc below the cleared sector of the Vistula river. Striking west of Przemyśl, fortress city taken Friday, the Russians rolled on through Jawornik-Polski, 22 miles beyond Przemyśl and 103 miles from Krakow on the main invasion route to German Silesia.

Third Of Names On Honor Roll

Painting of the 3,000 or more names of service men and women on the Pettis county honor roll on the court house lawn is reported approximately one-third completed.

The American Legion committee in charge has found it necessary to employ another painter, which is causing some delay. John Rucker, who has been doing the work, is leaving Sedalia.

The purpose of the board is to honor Pettis county men and women in active war service since Pearl Harbor. This includes all branches of combat service, army, navy and marines, including army doctors, nurses and medical corps personnel.

The committee in charge has the names of the National Guardsmen and all selective service inductees, but it must rely on the public for the names of those who were in service before Pearl Harbor and all those under and over draft age who since have voluntarily enlisted. The committee especially wants every service woman's name included. All such names should be reported to the Chamber of Commerce office.

The expense of erecting and painting the honor roll is being raised for by voluntary contributions from the public. The sponsoring organization would appreciate additional contributions, it is reported.

Bitterness Is Injected Into The Campaign

Politicians Had Been Talking Of 600,000 Votes

JEFFERSON CITY, July 29.—(P)—Charles Ferguson, a Republican candidate for governor, tonight demanded that Barak T. Mattingly resign as GOP National committeeman after next Tuesday's primary election "in the interest of party success in November."

"As the primary campaign closes," Ferguson declared, "two things are sure: My nomination and the collapse of Mattingly's ambition to succeed Tom Pendergast as political boss of Missouri."

Ferguson's blast at the man who is supporting Jean Paul Bradshaw for the Republican governorship nomination climaxed the bitterest as well as the busiest week of Missouri's primary campaign.

The campaign's voter-rousing, name calling finish—after a slow start—caused some forecasters to boost their estimates of the total vote which will be cast next Tuesday. A few weeks ago politicians talked of a 600,000-vote maximum, compared with a pre-war turnout of 950,000 votes four years ago. Now Democrats guess 300,000 to 450,000 votes in their party and Republicans talk of 250,000 to 300,000 GOP votes.

Big Collection Of Waste Fats

The Girl Scouts went over their goal again in the waste-fat collection held Saturday with 1,265 pounds. This is the largest collection the girls have had. The goal was 1,000 pounds.

The following counselors were in charge at the schools:

Horace Mann, Mrs. A. A. Ferguson; Broadway, Mrs. Dimmitt Hoffman; Mark Twain, Mrs. Harry Harnsberger; Washington, Mrs. John McLaughlin; St. Patrick's, Mrs. Harold Dean; Sacred Heart, Mrs. J. Pierre Lamy; Jefferson, Mrs. Harry Lambirth; Whittier, Mrs. Abe Bertman.

The next waste-fat collection will be held on August 26.

Any housewives who were missed on Saturday will be called on Tuesday morning for waste-fat if they will call the Girl Scout office, telephone number 521.

Mrs. Harry N. Lambirth, who has been supervisor of the Girl Scout day camp held the last week, has expressed the appreciation of the girls for the opportunity the public has helped afford them, by contributions, to make such trips possible. The Scouts evidence this appreciation, she said, by their patriotic efforts.

Old Brick Home Of Sisters Of St. Joseph Being Razed

One of Sedalia's oldest landmarks passed this week with the tearing down of the brick home of the Sisters of St. Joseph at the corner of Fourth street and Washington avenue.

In the summer and fall of 1865 the first brick buildings were erected in Sedalia. The old structure at Fourth street and Washington avenue was the first brick house and the second brick building to be built, the first being a one story building erected at the south east corner of Second street and Ohio avenue by Stafford and Magann.

The home was built by Col. John F. Phillips and the material to build it was brought here from Washington, Mo. Col. Phillips first located at Georgetown in 1856-7, where he practiced law until the outbreak of the Civil War. In 1857 he was married to Miss Fleece Batterton of Danville, Ky., and to this union two children were born, Emmet, who is deceased and Hortense, who is now Mrs. William M. Fible of Kansas City. He fought for the cause of the Union and in 1875 was mustered out of the army. At the close of the war he resumed his practice of law at Sedalia at which time he built this brick home for his wife and family. He formed a law partnership with Judge Russell Hicks in 1866 and shortly afterward George H. Vest joined the firm, and Vest and Col. Phillips continued in partnership until Vest was elected to the United States Senate.

Col. Phillips was later appointed United States District Judge of Missouri and moved to Jefferson City and later on judge of the western district of Missouri which took him to Kansas City where he resided until his death.

Orote Taken Adm. Nimitz Announces

Key Industry City Of Japs; Anshan, Blasted

U. S. PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, July 29.—(P)—"Orote peninsula is ours," Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced tonight, reporting the outstanding triumph of the invasion of Guam.

Organized resistance ceased Friday, giving the invaders a 4-700 foot airfield, the Sumay Naval Base and the shell-shattered barracks where a tiny garrison of Marines was overwhelmed by Nipponese invaders at the outset of the war.

Remnants of an American flag which the Japanese had used for a cushion was found in the barracks' ruins.

PT boats patrolled the Apra Harbor to guard against the few survivors of the 2,000 Japanese trapped on the peninsula from swimming to their own lines elsewhere on Guam.

The large quantity of booty seized included 30 tanks, 72 field pieces and coastal guns up to eight-inchers.

On Tinian, adjacent to conquered Saipan, another invasion force has occupied approximately two-thirds of that air base island and are storming the bomb-blasted town of Tinian.

A SUPERFORTRE BASE in Western China, July 29.—(P)—A powerful force of B-29 bombers today blasted Anshan, key industrial city in the Mukden area of Eastern Manchuria and the heart of Japan's arsenal of greater East Asia, in the first uperfortress assault by daylight and from high altitudes.

Canned Corn Back On Ration List

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(P)—The Office of Price Administration tonight ordered canned corn back on the ration list, and made grape jam, tomato preserves and tomato marmalades ration-free, effective at 12:01 a. m. Sunday.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said the return of points to corn was "an emergency action taken to keep retailers' stock from running out."

A new value of three points for the generally used 12-ounce can was assigned for whole kernel, vacuum-packed corn, while other canned corn gets a value of five points for a 20-ounce can.

Chief Interest In Nominees For State Tickets

Political leaders in both the Democratic and Republican parties are predicting a large primary vote on Tuesday. As a matter of fact they believe it will be the largest primary vote since 1932 when congressmen ran for the nomination on the tickets at-large.

The political interest, however this year has been lacking. Fewer meetings have been held, and with the exception of the meetings held for candidates for the United States Senate and Governor no other gatherings have been held.

The polls will open at 7 o'clock

Tuesday morning and are to remain open until sun down. Sunday will be about 8:19 o'clock Tuesday night, war time. In past years the polls were closed at 7 o'clock, but at a recent city election it was found the polls had to remain open until sundown in a city as large as Sedalia.

Arrest Boys In Theft Of Car Here

The 1942 Oldsmobile coupe of Dr. J. M. Rodeman, 1015 South Barrett avenue, stolen last Tuesday night from near the Bothwell hospital, was located Saturday morning in Wichita, Kansas, abandoned. The thieves who took the car had switched license plates on it and it bore Kansas tags.

Four of the five boys believed to have stolen the automobile, who escaped from the Missouri Training School at Boonville, were apprehended in Syracuse, Kansas, and another boy is believed to still be in Wichita.

Boys apprehended in Kansas were: Lloyd Perryman, Manford Cannon, Lester G. Bowen, and Richard Elbert Hendrix. The boy believed to still be in Wichita is Rex Johnson.

The car had been driven into south Missouri, was seen at Ozark, Mo., then the boy supposedly cut across the southern part of the state into Kansas, down through Sedan, Kansas, where the medical grip of Dr. Rodeman was found and turned over to the sheriff at that place.

According to information received by the Sedalia police, a request has been made to prosecute the boys in federal court and that the case be turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation inasmuch as it involves taking a stolen car across a state line.

Greatest U S Offensive Since World War On

Twenty-Six On U. S. Transport Plane Lost

Aboard Were 18 Patients On Way To Hospital

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(P)—Loss of an army transport plane with 26 persons aboard including 18 patients, while en route from Scotland to Mitchell Field, New York, was announced today by the War Department.

The plane, a C-47 transport, presumably went down Wednesday morning between Iceland and Newfoundland, the Department said. It was last heard from about 1:00 a. m. Wednesday and "would have exhausted its gasoline that morning," the announcement declared. An intensive search is still under way.

Aboard the plane were 15 army and three navy stretcher cases.

The eight other persons aboard included a civilian crew of five and an army flight nurse.

Wide Search Made

More than 150 planes of the air transport command and the Royal Canadian air force have joined in the search, together with surface craft of the navy, coast guard and other services.

"This is the first casualty of its kind," the Department's announcement said, "since the beginning of the army's world-wide evacuation program soon after the United States entered the war. Since that time, 250,000 sick and wounded have been evacuated by air."

The four-engine plane was flown by a Transcontinental and Western air crew under contract to the War Department.

Lt. Col. Leon R. Vance, 1015 North B Street, Arkansas City, Kansas. Was one of the patients aboard the plane.

Father Killed In Crash

ENID, Okla., July 29.—(P)—Friends learned of a new tragedy in the Vance family today with the War Department announcement that Lt. Col. Leon R. Vance Jr., was one of 18 patients aboard an army transport plane lost while flying from Scotland to New York.

On July 5, two days after the family had received news the colonel was seriously injured during a bomber raid in France, his father, principal of an Enid school and a flier himself, was killed in a plane crash here which also took the life of Claire Marie Owen, 17, granddaughter of the late H. H. Champlin, oil man and refiner.

The senior Vance had been giving flying instruction to Miss Owen.

Sixteen years ago the senior Vance's brother, Will, was killed in a plane crash here.

Motorists Must Save "A" Back Cover

Motorists holding "A" gasoline coupon books are warned by Ration Boards to hold on to the back cover of their old book even after the stamps have been used up, because they will need it when they apply for renewal sometime next month. A person filing application for renewal of "A" coupons will be required to attach the back cover of the old book to the application before filing. OPA officials have announced.

Girl Scouts Camp at "Little House" Was One of Activity

There was plenty of activity around the Girl Scout Little House last week with over a hundred girls between the ages of ten and sixteen attending the Day Camp each day and many of them remaining over night.

There were five units based on age and year in school. Each unit was under a leader who has had training in camping and under her direction a model camp is set up. Each unit had a sleeping tent and a kitchen tent. With the exception of the cots in the sleeping tent and a small ice box and a few utensils in the kitchen tent everything was improvised.

Orange crates and nail kegs were used for almost anything. There are orange crates tied to the trees for outside cupboards for food, there are orange crate cupboards inside, there are bookcases, dressing tables and bed tables made of orange crates.

Paving The Way For Fall Of Florence

Enemy Is Forced To Flee Before New Zealanders

By NOLAND NORGAARD

ROME, July 29.—(P)—The final phase of the battle for Florence opened violently in the rolling hills to the south today as veteran New Zealanders of the Eighth army drove to a point just five miles below the historic city and the Germans quickly countered every Allied thrust with strong forces of Tiger tanks.

The German army south of the Arno river was compressed into a front only 30 miles long which threatened to give way along its entire western end and pave the way for the fall of Florence.

Eighth army units crowding in on this western segment were able to maintain only minor contact with the enemy, who was forced to flee as the New Zealanders, hammering northeastward from Cerbaia to the point five miles below Florence, threatened to isolate Nazi troops remaining in an eight-mile-wide wedge between the mouth of the Elsa river and Montepulciano to the east.

Cut In Mountain Line

The New Zealanders, prepared for battle in the summer heat by their previous victorious fighting in the deserts of Africa, cut into the last mountain line below Florence.

Other Eighth army troops drove to within two miles of Empoli, 15 miles west of Florence on the south bank of the Arno, and still other units closed in on Florence from the southeast. South Africans crossed the Greve river seven miles south of Florence below Impruneta and still other Eighth army forces won mountain positions nine miles southeast of the city.

During the night, Associated Press Correspondent Lynn Heinzel wrote from the Florence battlefield, Germans holding the last ridge between the New Zealanders and the city itself lashed out with two counterattacks, each of company strength.

Despite heavy Eighth army artillery fire, the enemy put two dents in the New Zealanders' line in the St. Michele and La Romola areas, rolling them back 600 yards.

Clean Out Pockets on Way

Behind the advance, American tanks, self-propelled guns and hard-slugging Doughboys cleaned out pocket after pocket of madly resisting Germans who had been by-passed in the first rush. The captives, now totalling more than 6,000 and increasing steadily, included the elements of seven German divisions. German dead littered nearly every field and lane.

The tally of enemy tanks destroyed mounted to 267 claimed by American fighter-bombers alone, including 17 Saturday and the tremendous aerial support of the American drive continued without a let-up despite unfavorable weather.

The Allied midnight communiqué credited the fighter-bombers with hitting German military buildings near Morlaix yesterday morning, and German transport, racing to get out of the steel grip of the American advance, was heavily battered by the planes.

The communiqué also disclosed a big-scale cleanup of the enemy pockets behind the advance, naming Cerisy La Salle, Montpichon, and a deep salient between Villebaudon and St. Denis Le Gast among the points cleared of the enemy. The bag of enemy prisoners was expected quickly to reach divisional size, and the numerous Nazi dead remained to be counted.

Your Duty To Vote Tuesday—

In the "Forty Years Ago Column" of 1944 there might appear this item:

"All the Republican and Democratic voters of Sedalia and Pettis county went to the polls Tuesday, August 1, 1944 and cast ballots for their respective candidates in the primary election."

No such item will be recorded, yet there is no reason why encouragement should not be given to accomplishing such an unheard of event in political history.

Try to go to the polls Tuesday and vote.

An Advantage In First Place—

On the primary ballots of both tickets there are many candidates about whom the average voter knows nothing. Names appearing first under an office title will receive the benefit of ballots cast by puzzled voters. More attention will be given to voting for candidates for principle offices because summer campaigning has made their names familiar.

There are all kinds of ifs, ands and buts about the ultimate fate of candidates chosen in the primary Tuesday. The situation in Missouri is a bit added at the moment.

Leaders of both parties will have a sigh of relief next Wednesday morning when the voters' choice will be made known and the campaigners may then get down to the real business of setting their course for the November election.

Maybe The Fish Likes You—

When you are unfortunate enough to be "fined" when removing a fish from your line, don't become provoked. Perhaps there is something about you the fish likes because some species of fish taste with their fins.

A Matter of Good Taste—

Discussing human evolutionary processes, speaker at Kiwanis meeting observed that those persons who had acquired a sense of aestheticism had advanced from the clod state. An aesthete is a lover of the beautiful, a disciple of the doctrines of good taste. Rare indeed is the man of today who has not a spark of these principles within his breast.

But so often man is a contradiction of himself. He may be a genuine devotee of the science of taste or beauty, and as such highly regarded by his social companions. Yet, in an unguarded moment, he often stumbles over the very device that holds him up. And down he goes to his original, clod environment.

Man learns by trial and error. The evolutionary process has revealed that those who sustain themselves above error—physical or mental—are those who pass on the strength of their seed to future generations. Those who succumb to error are like the plants destroyed in drought; their elements are diversified and return to the status of origination.

Impressions made by disciples of good taste are virtually imperishable in the memory of others. But an interspersed of bad taste in one brief second shatters with the force of an atomic explosion the effects of all preceding perceptions of a man's aestheticism.

Sedalia On Continental Map—

The Continental Eagle, monthly publication of Continental Airlines, Inc. devotes its July issue to a 10th anniversary observance. The brochure is an informative one. Of special interest to people of this community is a page map of the airlines present and proposed routes which includes Sedalia, population 20,500; Joplin and Springfield. Thousands of these brochures are distributed. It is always pleasurable to see Sedalia's name in print. Good advertising? Certainly.

Roger Means O. K. I Understand—

Most golfers can tell you what a "birdie" means but will be unable to explain how a "birdie" got its name.

Origin of many expressions in common usage today cannot be explained.

Aviators have one they use in communications. Some youngsters were overheard discussing the meaning and use of "Roger" by air pilots.

"What do they mean by 'Roger'?" one lad queried.

"I know," answered another, "Roger" means Sermon. I heard Pop say he was going to vote for him."

Beating The Allies To It—

Adolf Hitler's purge of leading Nazi generals and civilians charged with plotting against his life and regime, is viewed with mild horror by those opposed to such ruthless tactics. Yet it may not be considered altogether a disservice to humanity. By killing off so many guilty war leaders, Hitler is saving the Allies the necessity later on setting up court trials and hangman's gallows.

As Clear As Mud—

Some mud at the bottom of the sea is transparent. Some political mud being tossed around in Missouri these days is easily seen through also.

The Locomotive Whistle—

Have you ever stood on the Missouri Pacific station platform and watched a fast train coming up the grade from the west?

About five well-traveled street crossings pass over the main line track. Frequently automobiles are seen moving across the path of the oncoming railroad cars. Surprised drivers sometimes step on the gas to cross quickly ahead of the train. It is miraculous there are not more fatal collisions.

Station platform spectators hold their breath expecting the worst sometimes. But one of the preventives, a safety factor, is the locomotive whistle that in the dead of night is so disturbing to light sleepers in town. The blast sounded before each crossing warns pedestrians and motorists of the danger.

Who was responsible for the whistle device whose tunes vary from the dismal and screechy to moaning and wailing? George Washington Whistler, father of James Whistler, the painter, is supposed to have invented the original locomotive whistle. He was an army officer and engineer, helped build a railroad for a Russian czar.

The world has forgotten the inventor of such a simple contrivance that has perhaps saved millions of lives.

Remember?—

Remember, away back, when Sedalia's council passed a curfew ordinance?

The Weed Season Is Here—

Recent generous rains have helped vegetation—and the weeds.

Plenty of them are in and around Sedalia as any observer will notice. Vacant lots, along sidewalks, in alleys, around abandoned filling stations—most anywhere.

Councilman Frank Middleton, First Ward, is a bit provoked about the inattention given the weed problem. He says the street department with its limited manpower is doing all possible to correct this condition, and appreciates the cooperation of some of the citizens to date.

However, the weed and tall grass cutting job is by no means complete, so business men, property owners and tenants are requested to help make each week a clean up week of six days until the city regains its attractive position.

As Frank puts it: "Seems to us some magic in connection with a good sharp sickle should be tried out in many parts of Sedalia."

One thing sure, if weeds aren't cut soon there'll be a howl from the hay fever sufferers. The sniffer season opens about August 15. Weeds seem to aggravate the victims.

Your civic good deed for the first week of August could be weed-cutting.

When Is a Prisoner Not a Prisoner?—

Nothing is so popular as kindness, according to Cicero; yet Shakespeare and others put it another way:—You can kill with kindness.

Maybe that's what prompted emotional Jeannette, Pennsylvania citizens of Italian extraction to arrange a big ceremonial banquet for a group of Italian prisoners of war from a nearby camp.

I lived in that town for twelve years. The population is principally of the melting pot variety. Almost every European race and country is represented by those who came directly from over the waters years ago, or by their descendants.

They have the most unpronounceable names—until you acquire the knack of learning how to do it. You've got to learn if you work on a newspaper there. And from pronunciation you have to learn to spell those names—Bianchetti, Sakas, Bohinc, Caternaro, Benevanto, Dorazio, Hyderchuck, Masciantonio.

Up around Chambersburg where the Italian prisoner camp is located the town shopkeepers have given the prisoners a cold shoulder and the story is told they are not allowed to buy candy, soft drinks or food.

Jeannette Italo-Americans didn't like that so they planned a week end party for the prisoners with the Garibaldi Beneficial Society as host. It seems that Italian prisoners and officers have been allowed considerable freedom of movement not only in Pennsylvania but elsewhere. In fact there is a certain glamour about the prisoner-soldiers that has given them more attention than received by our own American soldiers home on week end furloughs.

However after party plans had been made they were cancelled by army authorities for "military reasons." The order followed protests to the War Department and Pennsylvania senators by the commander of the Pennsylvania American Legion.

Before that happened the editor of the town newspaper who traces his ancestry back to Germany and does not believe the Golden Rule will work in its application to German prisoners, explained why Italian prisoners should be treated differently.

He said: "Italy no longer holds any American boys as prisoners. When Italy came over to our side all American prisoners under their control came back. The United States probably should return Italian prisoners in America to their homes. But all our ship bottoms are needed for supplies. The Italians here are no longer prisoners, but merely detained until such time as they can be sent back across the Atlantic."

The War Department didn't agree with the editor's line of thinking after, of course, strong protests had been made. Before that the prisoners were not strictly confined.

Germans at Legion Party—

Shortly after going to live in Jeannette in 1925 I remember the American Legion post threw a party and invited former German soldiers to attend; Germans who had come to this country to live and work and rear families. The animosities of World War I had been forgotten. The one-time German soldiers were the center of attention as they told stories of how they machine-gunned American soldiers on the battlefield. If there was any shred of resentment against the former "Huns" it was not evidenced by the American Legion boys, one of whom still carried a slug in his heart.

It will be the same after World War II is over.

So They Say

There are no simple national problems today. They may have started out as simple ones, but they have been surrounded and obscured by so much academic theorizing and inexperienced guessing that it is a tough job to get through the incidentals to the buried heart of any problem.—William M. Jeffers, former rubber administrator.

I have been in the army since 1917 and I have never heard a shot fired in combat.—5th Army colonel in Italy.

After the war we will need from seven million to 10 million additional civilian jobs beyond those available in 1940, and most of the jobs must be found in the field of private endeavor. I think it is extremely important that the planning of public works projects at the federal, state and local levels be intensified.—Paul G. Hoffman, chairman Committee for Economic Development.

Merry-go-round

... by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, July 29—After Hannagan, Hague, Kelly and Flynn got their telephone instructions direct from the president to put across Senator Truman, they found their job complicated by the fact that they had a letter from FDR endorsing not only Truman but also Justice Bill Douglas.

Finally, after a lot of inside debate, they decided to take the bull by the horns and make the letter public, even though it only halfway proved their point. The effect, however, was bad. Delegates accused Hannagan of holding out regarding Douglas. A half-truth, they said, was as good as a lie.

By this time, the grass roots revolt had got alarmingly out of the bosses' control.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, learning that FDR had turned thumbs down on him for V. P., decided to turn thumbs down on FDR for a fourth term. He started to withdraw his nominating speech. It was only the midnight intervention of Mayor Wilson Wyatt of Louisville which finally deterred him.

Meanwhile, Mayor Kelly's own Illinois delegation bolted. His leadership and refused to go for Truman. Secretary of the Interior Ickes, though a member of the president's cabinet, led the revolt.

"The only thing I am interested in," Ickes told the Illinois delegation in secret caucus, "is the re-election of Franklin Roosevelt and the nomination of a second man on the ticket who will help him. Henry Wallace is the strongest man at this convention."

Kelly compromised by pledging his Illinois delegates for favorite son Senator Scott Lucas. Later that evening, it began to look as if Ickes was right. As the convention cleared its decks Thursday night of all business except nominating a man for vice-president, the Wallace supporters staged a tremendous demonstration. It lasted for about thirty minutes.

Timely Adjournment

Wallace leaders had expected that the convention would proceed that night with the vice-presidential nomination. But as the crowds continued to root for Wallace, Bob Hannagan came over and whispered to Mayor Kelly. Then they both came over and whispered to convention chairman Sam Jackson.

"You've got to adjourn the convention," said Hannagan.

"This crowd's too hot," replied Chairman Jackson. "I can't."

"You're taking orders from me," retorted Hannagan, "and I'm taking orders from the president."

Jackson then banged the gavel, finally moved adjournment. The vote for and against adjournment was close, many believing that the "Noes" had it. Wallace floor leader Senator Pepper of Florida started for the rostrum. Had he been quicker, had he asked for a roll call, it might have been that the convention would have proceeded to the nomination of a vice-president. In that case, many observers agree that Wallace, not Truman, would have been the candidate.

Even as it was, bosses Flynn, Hannagan, Hague and Kelly looked worried and half sick as they went home that night.

Immediately, they swung into action. That night, Postmaster General Frank Walker telephoned almost every chairman of every state delegation. How many postmasterships he promised is his secret. That night, California's Bob Kenny, supposed to have been for Wallace but a great pal of National Committee Treasurer Ed Pauley, suddenly switched, began working for Truman.

That night, also, Kelly's ward leaders in Chicago did not get any block tickets to the convention, only single tickets. This was to prevent Wallace supporters from tearing off ticket stubs for several days and using them all on one day to stampede the convention. Also, the next morning, Mayor Kelly's efficient police had orders to let no spectators into the top galleries of the stadium. Kelly was taking no chances. The top galleries remained bare.

Wallace Rolls Up Votes

Next morning, as the convention opened for its last session, the bosses got word that Senator Barkley had been conferring with Wallace; that Barkley, disgruntled at the way Roosevelt had treated him, was ready to throw his votes to Wallace on the third ballot if Wallace got over 400 votes on the first roll call.

This spurred the bosses to even greater activity. Ed Pauley began calling delegates down to his little office under the platform. Pauley is all wrapped up with Standard Oil of California, is high up in Democratic councils, can offer favors. Oscar Ewing, Democratic vice-chairman and lobbyist for the Aluminum Corporation, also swung into action.

Despite all this, Wallace proceeded to roll up the impressive total of 429½ votes on the first ballot.

As his votes increased, White House assistants Jonathan Daniels and Jim Barnes stepped backstage to a hot-dog stand.

"This is hurting the boss," they told another Roosevelt adviser.

"This puts him in the position of backing the wrong horse. If we could hold the convention over for a day and get to him on the phone, maybe we could swing him to Wallace."

However, the party bosses now had things pretty well in hand. They were working feverishly to prevent a third ballot, at which time Barkley was scheduled to start a bandwagon rush by throwing his votes to Wallace.

Switch To Truman Achieved

As the second ballot was about to end, with several states passing, Wallace still had 474, with Truman 477½. Shortly before this, White House assistant Gene Casey of Maryland squeezed through the row of Maine delegates, seated just in front of Maryland. An ex-football star, Casey is no slyph, but he wormed his bulky frame past each delegate and, one by one, whispered in their ears.

Suddenly, the Maine delegation, hitherto largely for Wallace, switched to Truman. Then Maryland, Casey's own delegation, announced for Truman. Casey originally was appointed to the White House through Henry Wallace, but now he was obeying orders. He did his job well.

Straws That Show How the Wind Blows

One by one, other state delegations fell in line. The carefully planned bandwagon rush for Truman was on. Up on the rostrum, they turned off the floor microphones beside each state delegation, so no delegates could protest the switch-over or demand a roll call. Without microphones, their voices would have been drowned out in the din.

Behind the rostrum, Senator Truman, modest, sincerely not seeking the nomination, sat on a box eating a hot dog and drinking a bottle of pop. A voice came over the microphone: "Will the next vice-president of the United States please come to the microphone."

Truman did not budge. Not until the voice had boomed several times, did he realize it was referring to him.

Back in the Wallace headquarters, his enthusiasts, dejected, almost in tears, filed by to shake his hand. Wallace was the only cheerful one present.

"We've all got to get busy now and work for November 7," he said. "We've got to elect the ticket."

Back at the bosses' headquarters in the Blackstone, someone remarked that it had been harder to defeat Wallace in 1944 when he was cheered, than it was to put him across in 1940, when he was booed.

"Roosevelt giveth, and Roosevelt taketh away," remarked another, as he packed up to return to Washington.

"Give unto the Lord the glory due unto His name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." (Psalm 29:2).

"I am supporting Senator Bennett Champ Clark for renomination and re-election . . . Senator Clark is recognized in the Senate as a champion of veterans' legislation . . . Salute to a Lady

THE SCENE: A U. S. Army hospital in a little native village in the heart of Algeria about the time of the American landings in North Africa.

THE STORY: Dr. Merrill orders German-born Charlotte to over-hear and report on the conversation of three captured Nazi soldiers. They talk about an influential German agent in a nearby village but have not yet mentioned his name.

CONFIDENCES

BENZIDRINE wasn't the answer this time. I pondered and pondered. Finally the lieutenant helped me involuntarily. He asked for water. I refused him, and made him understand that he wasn't allowed to eat or drink any more before his operation.

"Wenn?" he asked.

"Soon," I said.

He plunged into a deep silence which the two men didn't dare to disturb. The stillness became almost deafening. It oozed from all the corners, the walls, the floor, the ceiling. It was one of those hours when you, wondering about yourself and your little life, can hardly understand what strange forces destined you to this particular place at this particular time. Reality becomes unreal and your dreams take on substance. It was a long road with many detours that brought me here, and I could hardly believe that I had traveled it. In hours like this you feel clearly that you are split into two beings which are only fused together during the activity of work.

I became one whole being again when the lieutenant spoke. "Men, it might be that I won't come back from the operation, so I had better tell you the name of this man. But I will divide the name into its six syllables. The first is 'mu.' Listen carefully while I talk. I will put each succeeding syllable at the beginning of a new sentence. Do you get the idea?"

"All right," the lieutenant said. "Let's begin. But don't repeat the word. Just stop me when you don't get it."

I felt hot all over and a nervous itch to sneeze tickled me, but how could I dare to give way to sneezing on the verge of a great discovery. I scarcely risked breathing.

"Stu ich habe durst," was the first sentence. And: "Fa' mein Bart wachst rasch," the second.

This clearly yielded the name "Mustapha."

Then came a long and effective pause, while steps were heard outside as Ted made his rounds. And then at short intervals, four silly remarks about weather and sleep, and the full name of the Arab traitor was known to us: Mustapha abdel Kur.

WITH the most vacant face I could command I waited for the proper time to run to Dr. Merrill. Though it was past midnight, he still sat in his tiny lab and worked.

"So soon, detective?" he smiled.

Hastily, as if every second counted, I told him the story and was disappointed that he took it so calmly. "Let's have a cup of coffee together," he said, instead of trying to have Mustapha abdel Kur arrested immediately.

A thermos bottle with coffee stood day and night on his desk. Tin containers, formerly cigarette boxes, served as cups.

"So you were born in Germany," Dr. Merrill said. "Did you start your career over there?"

Personal questions from him were something so rare that I was too perplexed to answer his queries with anything more than a mechanical yes or no. Then he said, "So many of us have had to detour before finally discovering our true vocation. Take even a woman like Florence Nightingale. She too had a difficult time finding herself and once wrote in her diary: 'At the age of 31, I see nothing desirable but death.'"

"You said 'us,' Doctor," I risked. "Do you mean that you too belong to the group of people who found their way by detour?"

"Yes, of course, I too. I started out teaching the ABCs in grammar schools."

It wasn't easy to see this tall, broad-shouldered, poised man in his white coat surrounded by a bunch of noisy kids, and I told him so.

"No," he said. "I even liked it. But you see, I was engaged and my fiancée died 10 days before our wedding. A lovely healthy girl in the prime of her youth. Brain tumor! And that changed everything. I blamed the doctor for not having saved her. The doctor blamed me for being stupid. 'Only a man who has not the slightest knowledge of medicine could suggest such an outrageous thing,' he said. That prompted me to study medicine. At the age of 28 I went to college again. And ever since I have tried to make a plus out of a minus though I know now that I couldn't have saved her either."

When we had finished our coffee and I had cleaned the tin cups, I asked what he was going to do with Mustapha abdel Kur.

"You are sorry that you cannot handle the whole affair, aren't you?" the doctor teased.

"In a way, yes."

"Since you didn't sign up as an American Edith Cavell, I have to hand over the matter to the authorities and I'll do it first thing in the morning. Don't be afraid. Our three Jerries can't escape. They will be glad if they are ever able to run again."

"They won't recover, you mean?"

"Not the officer. The two privates may."

I stayed with them during the night and could observe how the effect of the Benzidrine slowly was ebbing, and they dozed again. Without the help of drugs, they were lost in their pain and too exhausted to talk, so nothing worth while reporting was divulged.

ers made by filling a tuna fish can with strips of corrugated paper and pouring paraffin over it—the girls, however, used the tallow from old candles. A tin can about a foot high or more with holes cut in several places is then placed over the burner and eggs can be cooked in three minutes, so the girls say. Anything else can be cooked on it, too. A skillet fits nicely on top of the can and anything cooks readily.

No matter what they want they seem to find a way of getting the job done. When a young girl wants a shower bath she merely goes to the pump, fills a bucket with water, holds it above her head and spills it out herself, not a little at a time but the entire bucketful at once. Then she refills the bucket and goes through the same procedure.

Used Creative Talents

The girls use their creative talents, too, and at the same time work for their badges of various kinds. A centerpiece for one of the tables was a miniature desert scene made of mud, twigs, stones, berries and weeds. Among the things made in handicraft are bracelets and necklaces of luster lace, bead weaving, lapel ornaments, dolls.

Always the local Girl Scout leaders have been told by state and national leaders that they have never really had a Scout Camp until they have been through a storm. This camp, then, is complete. Rain came in torrents Tuesday and the wind blew, toppling over things and soaking everything that was outside a tent. There was a scamper to get everything that the rain could ruin into the tents as quickly as possible but the funny scene of the storm was one of the leaders standing out in the rain holding an umbrella over the fire to keep it from going out and to keep the rain out of the kettle of something she was cooking. She was unperturbed by the rain pouring down upon her but she wasn't going to have it ruin her stew or whatever was in the kettle.

Camp Under Lease

The Girl Scout Camp consists of thirty-three acres which belongs to the state of Missouri and is leased for ninety-nine years by the Girl Scouts. Twenty acres has been cut for the camp. The Little House is just four stone walls, possibly a corn crib, originally. A roof has been put on, a fine fireplace built inside, a kitchen built on and now a large concrete porch which has been screened in has been built on the front and one side.

The porch and all improvements have been made through the efforts of the girls themselves through the waste-fat drives. With the money made from the waste-fat collection Saturday they will paint the porch and hope to obtain enough money later to buy windows to replace the screens when the weather turns cold.

Mrs. Harry Lambirth is the director of the camp, with Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, assistant. Mrs. A. A. Studebaker is the Girl Scout Commissioner, with the following in charge of the different units, Mrs. J. W. Leftwich, unit 1; Mrs. Cecil Glenn, unit 2; Mrs. G. W. Anderson, unit 3; Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, unit 4 and Miss LaVonne Wright, unit 5.

Tom Pendergast as political boss of Missouri, Republican National Committee member Barak T. Mattingly said tonight "my record matches that of Mr. Ferguson admirably, and I shall pay no attention to the mouthings of a defeated candidate."

Mattingly pointed out that he was reelected National committee member recently without opposition. Further, he said, while Ferguson, as state chairman, was devoting his attention to Wendell Wilkie's campaign Mattingly was working for the state ticket and a Republican governor was elected.

The growing bitterness of the Ferguson-Mattingly feud prompted Dr. James Stewart, also a GOP gubernatorial candidate, to suggest "it is now apparent I am the only candidate for governor upon whom all Republicans can unite in November."

U. S. Senator Bennett Champ Clark's campaign headquarters predicted he "will be renominated by a majority which may approximate 100,000 votes."

Roy McKittick's campaign headquarters in St. Louis countered with a prediction that Ferguson general will beat Clark by 70,000 votes.

From three Democratic candidates for governor came equally confident predictions of victory. Phil M. Donnelly's campaign manager, Frank P. Briggs, forecast Donnelly's nomination by "35,000 to 65,000 votes, depending on the size of the vote cast."

Roger T. Sermon's headquarters predicted Sermon "will carry 75 counties, including those in southeast Missouri in the 10th congressional district, and those in which are located, the cities of Kansas City, Sedalia, St. Joseph, Columbia, Maryville, Hannibal, Joplin and Springfield. He will carry St. Louis by a safe majority."

Texans Swap Blows During Conventions

Pro-Roosevelt Forces Press For Control

AUSTIN, Tex., July 29.—(P)—Fist fights and rump meetings broke out in bitterly contested Texas Democratic county conventions today as pro-Roosevelt forces pressed for control of state party machinery.

Reports from nearly 200 of the state's 254 counties, exclusive of those in which there were dual conventions, showed 101 delegations to the Sept. 12 state convention instructed to seek Roosevelt-Truman electors, 29 for present electors -ot bound for national nominees, and 32 uninstructed delegations.

Of those uninstructed about a half dozen were described as pro-Roosevelt. Some 25 counties had no conventions. There were four counties with delegations chosen by both factions.

Delegates swapped blows at Dallas and El Paso before pro-Roosevelt and anti-Roosevelt factions divided and chose separate delegations to the state meeting in Dallas.

Anti-Roosevelt Democrats walked out of the Dallas convention; pro-Roosevelt delegates left the Tarrant county meeting at Fort Worth, and the Harrison county convention split wide open when anti-Roosevelt delegates bolted.

Regular forces organized the Harris county meeting at Houston over a highly vocal pro-Roosevelt faction. Roosevelt supporters won a hard fight for control of the Gregg county delegation.

The Negro delegates who were named to the Harris county meeting chose a white man to cast their vote and did not attend.

Destroy 45 Planes By Murlin Spencer

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Sunday, July 30.—(P)—A large escorted force of Liberators and Mitchells destroyed 45 Japanese planes and caused extensive damage in the first large-scale raid on Halmahera Island Thursday, headquarters announced today.

Halmahera lies about 300 miles south of Mindanao, main southern island in the Philippines. It is considered a major strategic point blocking any direct approach to the Philippines from the New Guinea area.

More than 50 Liberators, with fighter escort and additional Mitchell Medium Bombers, participated in the daylight assault.

More Recruits Need Of Guard

Company 'F' Has Enrolled Several Additional Ones

Company 'F' Missouri State Guard has received several new recruits during the last week but the commanding officer, Capt. Arthur Burke, advises the tempo of recruiting will have to be stepped up in order for the local company to obtain their full quota and comply with Governor Donnell's proclamation of July 22nd, declaring July 23rd to August 5th as state wide recruiting weeks for the several regiments. Capt. Walter W. Thom, from 4th Regimental Hdq., Signal Corps, Columbia, Mo., will be in Sedalia one day during the first week in August with the 4th Regiment's complete mobile communications car and loud speaker system to aid in obtaining new recruits. Sgt. James E. Morrow, Capt. John K. Anderson and Cpl. James W. Atkinson of Co. 'F' are now licensed radio operators and communications men.

Have Special Classes Along with the regular State Guard training program, Plans and Training Officer Lieut. E. N. Reynolds will have special training classes as soon as the company's full quota of men is in; the special work will consist of First Aid Training, Military Courtesy and Discipline, Camouflage, Demolition and Gas warfare training. All men in 4F class, men discharged from the army and navy and men not subject to military call from the age 18 through age 55 are eligible for consideration as members of State Guard units. Men interested in radio work, first aid service, electrical engineering, mechanics and demolition work are especially needed.

A few business firms have already urged and arranged to let one or more of their employees spend Thursday evening at the Armory as guardsmen and it is hoped that more of the business men of Pettis county can arrange to enlist as guardsmen or let some of their employees become guardsmen during this campaign. In the absence of the National Guard the State Guardsmen are security troops whose duties in the event of disaster or disturbances are to protect the rights and property of citizens within the state.

Waste paper is still our No. 1 war material shortage. Food and medical supplies, blood plasma, ammunition and every piece of machinery and equipment which our fighting men are using is packed in, made of, or protected by paper.

Everyone in Pettis county is requested to save paper for the Boy Scouts and either call one of the Scoutmasters or save it in bundles to be placed on the curbstone for the next city wide collection on September 17th.

Mr. Baker also announced that prizes will be given in War Bonds and stamps to the troop that obtains the most paper during the two month drive. These prizes will be given on a prorated basis as to the number of boys in the troop.

The Pettis County Council will give a $25.00 War Bond as 1st prize, $10 in war stamps for 2nd, and $5 in war stamps as 3rd prize. Joe Cohen of the Cohen Salvage Co., will give a $50 war bond to the troop that gets the largest amount of pounds of waste paper.

Give Prizes On Waste Paper

Boy Scouts Also Get Merit Award And Lapel Badges

Ernest W. Baker, chairman of the Pettis County Boy Scout Council, has announced that all Boy Scouts in this area will cooperate with Boy Scouts all over America in an intensive two-month nationwide waste paper collection drive, beginning August 1, and closing September 30. There are 1,500,000 Scouts, Cubs and leaders in the U. S.

Thousands of Boy Scouts have been active in waste paper salvage during the current campaign, but this new drive, designed to help offset an anticipated late summer slump in waste paper collections, was organized jointly by National Boy Scout Headquarters and the Salvage Division of WPB, following receipt of a letter from Donald M. Nelson, chairman of WPB, by Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, chief Scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America in New York City. The Folding Paper Box Association of America is sponsoring the drive.

A specially prepared War Production Board Certificate of Merit, signed by Mr. Nelson will be presented to teach Scout Troop or Cub Pack that collects an average per boy of a thousand pounds of paper during the drive.

Special Lapel Badge A special Boy Scout WPB lapel badge will be awarded individually to all Scouts and Cubs who succeed in collecting a thousands pounds or more of waste paper in the two month period. The proceeds from the sale will go into troop funds for later purchase of camping and other equipment.

Mr. Baker has arranged with the salvage dealers in Sedalia to give the boys a credit slip for the amount they bring in each time that they may be eligible for the awards on September 30. The Sedalia and Pettis county troops will continue making weekly collections by troops but the next city wide collection similar to those that have been conducted in the past will be held September 17th.

Any Boy Scout who sells paper for his credit slip and turn it over to his Scoutmaster so that he and his troop will receive credit for same. Waste paper is still our No. 1 war material shortage. Food and medical supplies, blood plasma, ammunition and every piece of machinery and equipment which our fighting men are using is packed in, made of, or protected by paper.

Everyone in Pettis county is requested to save paper for the Boy Scouts and either call one of the Scoutmasters or save it in bundles to be placed on the curbstone for the next city wide collection on September 17th.

Mr. Baker also announced that prizes will be given in War Bonds and stamps to the troop that obtains the most paper during the two month drive. These prizes will be given on a prorated basis as to the number of boys in the troop.

The Pettis County Council will give a $25.00 War Bond as 1st prize, $10 in war stamps for 2nd, and $5 in war stamps as 3rd prize. Joe Cohen of the Cohen Salvage Co., will give a $50 war bond to the troop that gets the largest amount of pounds of waste paper.

Open House At SAAF Tuesday

Thrills In Some Of Demonstrations To Be Given

Celebrating a dual anniversary, the 37th birthday of what is now the Army Air Forces and the 35th year since the first military airplane was purchased, the Sedalia Army Air Field will conduct an "Open House" on Tuesday, August 1st, from 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m.

In compliance with the wishes of the Commanding General of the Army Air Forces, citizens of the surrounding counties are invited to attend and witness a spectacular air show; an inspection of every piece of rolling equipment that the Sedalia Army Air Field has in use; a personal tour throughout the C-47 Troop Carrier Transports and CG-4A gliders which were the same type that spear-headed the invasion in Normandy and to watch a daring sport parachute jump over the runways.

Colonel Reed G. Landis, Commanding Officer of the 61st Troop Carrier Wing and Colonel Jerome B. McCauley, Commanding Officer of the SAAF, issued a joint invitation to the people of the community to come out to the air base and observe this dual anniversary of the U. S. Army Air Forces.

Special Demonstrations Jeeps, two-tugs, trailers, scout cars, weapons of every type used by the air forces will be on display. All equipment, not classified for military security, will be shown to the public during the open house celebration.

The new "Flak Suit," instrumental in saving the lives of pilots and crew members will be shown and modeled.

A "Snatch-Pickup" of a parked glider by a huge C-47 Transport in front of the very eyes of the spectators will highlight the many thrills promised to those attending.

Military police, under the direction of the Provost Marshall, Capt. George P. Darnell, will act as guides and escorts during the tour. Crew members and overseas veterans will be on hand to answer any questions that the spectators might care to ask.

Elements of Troop Carrier transports will fly over the field in open and close formation.

Single and double tow of gliders will provide the public with a visual picture of the recent "D" day over the soil of France.

The various services, Ordnance, Chemical Warfare, Quartermaster and Sub-Depot will have exhibits, in one of the line hangers, of the various materials and types of equipment they handle.

The Sedalia Army Air Field will observe this dual anniversary with a fitting ceremony as a tribute to the Army Air Forces and the huge part that the men of the Troop Carrier Command have played in the war to date.

Entertainment and military music will be supplied by the men of the SAAF band under the direction of Warrant Officer Thomas E. Wilson. Among the many selections to be played will be the "Air Commandos," official song of the 1st Troop Carrier Command written by Colonel Reed G. Landis, Co. of the 61st TC Wing.

The public will be admitted to the Air Base from 9:30 a. m. until 2 p. m. in the afternoon, Aug. 1. They are directed to come to the main gate where they will be met by military police and escorted to the ramp and main exhibit area.

Roger Sermon Praised At Rally Here

John B. Pew Speaks For Candidate On Democratic Ticket

Speaking at a Democratic rally in Washington Park, Friday night, John B. Pew, well known Kansas City attorney said, "I know of no man who is better qualified as an all-round candidate for governor than Roger T. Sermon, Mayor of Independence, who seeks the nomination on our ticket."

Mr. Pew in his talk stated, "I was impressed with a statement made by Roger Sermon, which appeared in print this morning: 'At the end of four years as governor, I shall turn over the affairs of the Democratic party better united than they have been in fifty years.' I believe that statement and I know that, coming from my good friend, Roger Sermon it is sincere, and the party will be in perfect harmony."

Praises Candidate

Continuing he said, "Here is the best qualified man Missouri has had in many years. I come from Jackson county—Kansas City, if you please—where they talk machine politics. It is true there was machine politics, for whenever a party wins with huge majorities there is machine politics, be the victory Democratic or Republican. In our city and county, Democratic politics became top heavy, but today we have the finest government of any city or county in this United States."

"This is indeed true in Independence. Mayor Sermon has served his townspeople for the past twenty years. When he took office, the city had a bonded indebtedness of $600,000; today it has a surplus of $300,000. The city taxes are practically nil, yet independence continues to grow and to prosper. If elected, he will apply his experience to the state government and a similar record will be carried on, to the benefit of every Missourian."

Backed By Two Sedallians

"May I call it to your attention that Mayor Sermon has the sincere backing of two former Sedallians, Judge George S. Montgomery, presiding judge of the Jackson county court, and Paul Barnett, prominent Kansas City attorney. Your people all know the families of these two fine gentlemen, and I assure you that had Mayor Sermon not been the man I have told you he is, neither of them would have offered their support to his candidacy," he added.

Mr. Pew also made reference to the national ticket which will be subject to the November election.

During the meeting various county Democratic candidates present were called upon and introduced. A message of regret from Dr. George A. Clason, Clinton, Democratic candidate for the nomination for congress in the sixth district, who was unable to attend the meeting was read. L. C. Bryson, who was a delegate to the national Democratic convention held in Chicago, spoke in Dr. Clason's behalf.

The meeting was presided over by D. Kelly Scruton, Democratic City Central Committee chairman. At the conclusion of the meeting, ice cream was served.

Mayor Roger T. Sermon, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said in a speech prepared for delivery tonight that if elected he would not be a factional governor, nor a Democratic governor, "but a Missouri governor."

He stated that upon his election "politics will end and government will begin. I want to see that announcement to ring in the ears of every man and group who seek or may seek political favors at Jefferson City."

Sermon's scheduled speeches tonight were the last slated for the St. Louis area. He is to attend a rally at Independence Saturday, then will spend Sunday and Monday in Pettis and Boone counties.

I wanted to personally call on you and ask you for your vote in my race for the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Pettis County, but due to war conditions, that has been impossible. So I am asking you now for your vote on August 1, 1944.

If you give me this nomination and I am elected Sheriff of Pettis County I will enforce the law fairly and honestly without fear or favor to any person.

Call 2816

The Primary Campaign is almost at an end. While I have tried to contact as many voters as possible in behalf of my candidacy for the Republican nomination for the remainder of this term as County Collector, due to present conditions it has been impossible for me to see all. If I have failed to contact you, I am truly sorry and take this opportunity to earnestly solicit your vote and support.

It has been a pleasure to serve the people of Pettis County this part of the term and I would sincerely appreciate the opportunity to continue to serve you the balance of this term.

Since my appointment as County Collector, I have endeavored to conform to the laws of this state in the performance of all my duties, and remain faithful to the trust imposed upon me, and have treated each person alike regardless of politics, race, color, creed, or other standing.

My full time has been devoted to the office and my personal attention given to the many duties connected therewith. That will continue to be my policy of service if it is the will of the voters that I complete this term of office.

For years I have served my party and have worked for the election of others to office in Pettis County, and at the insistence of the Republican candidates, accepted the Republican Chairmanship in the 1942 campaign in which all of the Republican candidates for office in the court house were successfully elected. While I have rendered long and arduous service to my party, this is the first time I have ever been a candidate for an office for myself.

If you believe that I am worthy, I shall be grateful for your vote, and shall deeply appreciate all assistance you may give me.

Thanks kindly for the many courtesies you have shown me during the Primary campaign, and sincere thanks for your vote on next Tuesday.

BOTHWELL FOR COLLECTOR

I take this opportunity to solicit the vote and influence of my Republican friends in the Primary Election next Tuesday. Because of limited time and the patriotic duty of all citizens to use gasoline only for the transaction of urgent matters of business, it has been impossible for me to go to the homes of all voters and contact them personally. I sincerely trust that my personal record and reputation are favorably known to the citizens of this county and that I may merit the serious consideration of all voters next Tuesday.

SUPREME COURT DECISION

Numerous voters have made inquiry concerning my petition to the Supreme Court of our State for an interpretation of the law concerning the unexpired term in the Collector's Office. The late J. B. "Doc" Greer was re-elected to the office in November of 1942. He unfortunately passed away on the 25th day of December of that year. Under the law it became the duty of Governor Donnell to appoint a successor to serve until the next general election. Section 11509 of the Revised Statutes of Missouri, 1939, provides that the person appointed by the Governor shall continue in office until the next general election.

"at which said general election a person shall be elected to fill unexpired portion of such term."

The Attorney General of our State interpreted the section to mean that the appointee of the Governor would serve out the whole term of the late "Doc" Greer. After discussing the opinion of the Attorney General with numerous lawyers of Sedalia it was our opinion that the Attorney General was in error, just as he was in error when he held that Governor Donnell was not entitled to take the office of Governor. Not being satisfied with the opinion of the Attorney General I did what every citizen of Missouri has a right to do, namely, petitioned our Supreme Court for an interpretation of the law. Our Supreme Court unanimously held that the person filling the unexpired term of the late J. B. Greer should be elected by the people at the November, 1944, election. In filing the suit in the Supreme Court I meant no disrespect or discourtesy to the present incumbent or any other person, but only followed the procedure the law affords every citizen, namely, to petition the highest court of our state for an interpretation of the law. I have here enumerated the Supreme Court case to clarify inquiries concerning the subject.

PERSONAL RECORD

I have resided in Sedalia for the past 25 years and my two sons, who are now in the military service, were reared in this community. In the transaction of my private business and in the performance of my official duties as Sheriff (and the Sheriff cannot succeed himself in office under Missouri law), I have endeavored at all times to deal justly with all citizens and to faithfully discharge all of my responsibilities, whether in public or private life.

If nominated to fill the unexpired term of the office of Collector next Tuesday, I promise the members of my party to work untiringly for success in November; and if chosen by the people to be their Collector for the two year unexpired portion of the term of the late J. B. "Doc" Greer, I will faithfully discharge the duties of this important office and at all times render competent and courteous service to the people.

I sincerely solicit your vote, influence and support next Tuesday.

Senator Searcy is especially fitted, by reason of his outstanding qualifications and experience, for the office of Attorney General. He has been engaged in the active practice of law for the past 41 years, having been admitted to the bar at the age of 21 years.

In addition to his other duties Senator Searcy has been a delegate to the Missouri Constitutional Convention, and this work has required so much of his time that he has been unable to wage a very active campaign, and therefore is forced to make this race on his record of public service.

Senator Searcy deserves the vote of every Missouri Democrat.

Vote For Forrest Poindexter

Democratic Candidate for SHERIFF

The voters of Sedalia and Pettis County will have no regrets if they cast their ballot for me at the Tuesday Election. I want to publicly promise and assure all that if I am nominated and elected sheriff, I will devote my entire time to the office and everybody will be given a fair and square administration.

Serving as Constable for the past 7½ years makes me eligible to carry on the work and perform the duties in a capable and dependable way, because I still have my sworn duty to perform, and on account of the shortage of gasoline and tires, I have been unable to see each and every voter in the county, but I hope that you, as a voter, will understand my position and will work for me as aggressively as if I had had the pleasure of calling upon you personally and of meeting all of you face to face.

I appeal to you all, however, to vote for me Tuesday and thus make it possible for me to attain the office which will be the realization of a cherished ambition.

I THANK ALL MY FRIENDS FOR THEIR CONTINUED SUPPORT.
FORREST POINDEXTER, DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

BENNETT CLARK The Isolationist

Following is a quotation from a speech made by Senator Bennett C. Clark as quoted in the "Congressional Record," issue of October 11, 1939:

"... Let me say that in certain quarters there has been for sometime an effort to use the term of 'isolationist' as a term of opprobrium applied to those of us who oppose the emasculatation of the Neutrality Act . . . I use that term . . . as a badge of honor . . . and wear it as a badge of honor."

THAT THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

Here are the true facts concerning incumbent Bennett C. Clark, as presented in the editorial columns of the St. Louis POST-DISPATCH, Saturday, July 15, 1944, and reiterated by Governor Robert S. Kerr. Read and be guided accordingly when you cast your ballot in the primaries, Tuesday August 1.

The Editorial reads in part:

"Clark's voting record had by June of 1941 made him one of the leaders, together with Senators Wheeler and Nye, of the 'isolationist' block. Between March, 1937, and August, 1941, he voted against the naval appropriation bill, the naval expansion bill, the administration neutrality bill, the conscription bill, the lend-lease bill, the seven-billion-dollar lend-lease appropriation bill, the ship seizure bill, revision of the neutrality act, and extension of the conscription service bill. He voted for continuation of the wartime mandatory arms embargo, the referendum on overseas war, limitation of the use of armed forces to this hemisphere, and substitution of a two billion-dollar loan for the lend-lease plan.

"He complained publicly that the Red Cross, by recruiting technical staffs, was preparing for American entrance into the war."

"ISOLATIONISTS BECOMING EXTINCT"

President Roosevelt, in his radioed acceptance of the nomination declared:

"Not until this generation, have people here and elsewhere been compelled more and more to widen the orbit of their vision to include every part of the world. It has been a wrench, perhaps—but a necessary one.

"It is good that we are all getting that broader vision. For we shall need it after the war. THE ISOLATIONISTS AND OSTRICHS WHO PLAGUED OUR THINKING BEFORE PEARL HARBOR ARE BECOMING SLOWLY EXTINCT."

Vote for Roy McKittrick, who will support our President in winning the war and in making a Permanent World Peace.

(This advertisement composed and subscribed to by Pettis County friends and supporters of Roy McKittrick for United States Senator.)

From Governor Kerr:

Governor Robert S. Kerr, in his keynote address to the Democratic National convention last Wednesday night, had this to say:

"Most of the Republican members of the National Congress fought every constructive move designed to prepare our country in case of war. They fought and voted against the naval expansion bill of 1938.

"In March, 1939, they voted against a bill to increase our air force to a total of 6,000 planes.

"In June, 1939, in the House, they voted, 144 to 8 to reduce the appropriations for the Army Air Corps.

"In September, 1939, after war started in Europe, they voted 6 to 1 against the repeal of the arms embargo.

"In September, 1940, after France had fallen and the blitzkrieg against England had begun, the Republicans in the House voted 112 to 52 against the Selective Service Act.

"In February, 1941, the Republicans in the House voted 135 to 24 against lend-lease.

"In August, 1941, four months before Pearl Harbor, the Republicans in the House voted 133 to 21 to disband that part of the armed forces built from selective service personnel."

"If it was wrong for the Republicans to vote against these legislative measures, then certainly it was wrong for Bennett Clark to vote against them."

Republican Candidate

SECRETARY OF STATE

Mr. Smith was only 33 years old when he was first elected to public office as County Clerk of the Republican ticket and in his first campaign he led all other Republican candidates in Greene County, which established something of a record for a fledgling candidate. But it remained for Mr. Smith to break that first campaign record by piling up a total of majorities in successive re-elections that has seldom been equaled in the State of Missouri.

In 1930, Mr. Smith was elected County Collector of Revenue by the largest number of votes given any candidate on the Republican ticket. He was then re-elected in 1933 and 1932, each time with increasing majorities.

Mr. Smith has been active in local, civic and political affairs of the city of Springfield. He is a member of St. Paul Methodist Church, the Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Eagles and Elks. He is past president of the Springfield Association of Musicians and a member of the Abou Ben Adhem Shrine Band. He was the first president of the Springfield Gideon Camp, assistant director of the Second Missouri Infantry Band, member of the Springfield Kiwanis Club, and the Springfield Chamber of Commerce.

Solo Flights By Three More

Among Them Was Wife of Officer Now Overseas

Three more students of Jack Funk, instructor of flying at the Sedalia Municipal Airport, have soloed the past week, bringing the total of those who have soloed to five. More interest in flying is being displayed by Sedalians each week, Mr. Funk reports.

Those who had their first taste in the air "alone" this week were Mrs. Margaret Mattson, wife of Lieutenant E. T. Mattson, of the Troop Carrier Command, now overseas. Lieut. Mattson, was stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Field from February until May 1, and has been overseas the past three months, now stationed in Italy.

Mrs. Mattson, in discussing her flying said her husband knew nothing of her plans to fly and she decided to take up flying, because, "after the war I'll have to learn anyway," she said. "I didn't tell my husband about taking lessons, and don't expect to pass the word along until I get my private pilot's license. I just don't want him to have to sweat it out over there," she concluded.

Here For Duration

Mrs. Mattson's home is in Detroit, Mich., and she said due to the many friends made here since coming to Sedalia, she decided to make this city her home for the duration, at least until Lieutenant Mattson returned from overseas duty. She is residing with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kirkpatrick, 1207 South Barrett avenue.

Her solo date was on Wednesday, July 26th. Maurice Johns, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johns, 2400 South Kentucky avenue, also took up the small training plane and set it down on Thursday the 27th. Johns is employed by his father in the A. W. Johns Auto Supply Co., and is now awaiting his call for the service.

He graduated from Smith-Cotton high school in the spring of 1943.

J. R. Van Natta, Dresden, was the third person to solo at the field. He completed his first step in flying on Wednesday, July 26.

As the season nears its ending for the Grade School Softball League, Sacred Heart appears to have a strangle hold on the championship for the second consecutive year. Games scheduled for the week are:

Wednesday—Sacred Heart vs. Whittier.

Thursday—Horace Mann vs. Jefferson.

War Knight Provides Thrills At Arlington

CHICAGO, July 29.—(AP)—Ethel Hill of Beverly Hills, Calif., a prominent movie script writer, possibly never wrote a scenario with more thrills than her thoroughbred—War Knight—provided for her today in galloping to an upset victory in the $56,000 Arlington handicap.

War Knight, in winning his first major stake, conquered the favored Georgie Drum, by a neck, with Daily Trouble third, four lengths farther back.

Equifox, winner of the 1941 handicap was a struggling fourth in a small field of six with Valinda Foe and Bush-Whacker tagging along behind. Equifox and Daily Trouble ran as an entry.

The winner, which had failed in four previous Arlington races, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:02 to equal the track record.

Nose Decision To First Fiddle

NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP)—A pair of refugees from the claiming ranks staged a stretch duel for $38,000 today at Jamaica with First Fiddle winning a nose decision over Alex Barth in a record-smashing track performance for the mile and three-sixteenths of Empire City's Butler handicap.

The Fiddle, claimed by Mrs. Ed Mulrenan from Lt. C. V. Whitney as a two-year-old for $2,500, struck from behind in the final drive to cover the distance in 1:56, one-fifth of a second faster than Thumbs Up ran the distance last year. Alex Barth, taken from the Cold Stream stable by Louis Nimkoff's Millbrook stable for $3,500 last fall, was a length and one-half in front of William Ziegler's Wait A Bit.

In chalking up his eighth triumph, including the $50,000 Massachusetts handicap, in 13 starts this season, the five-year-old son of Royal Minstrel ran his earnings for the year to $120,180.

Sport Scraps

(By D. KELLY SCRUTON)

THE Twilight league softball season is nearing a close, the teams which played in the league have had an enjoyable time. Rivalry was tense in the league, and the cellar team fought just as hard at the end of the season as it did in the beginning.

The Community League will come to an end this week, on Thursday to be exact when the "All-Stars" composed of players from the three cellar teams meet the strong Washington aggregation, the league champions.

Certainly the teams from the Sedalia Army Air Field have enjoyed themselves, and with the exception of the S.A.A.F. Officers who had a team in the league throughout the season, several service aggregations represented the USO. Each week a different team came, and each week plenty of fun was had.

To me I think the School Board deserves much credit for sponsoring such leagues, and we hope that in 1945, the leagues will be bigger and better.

It has been brought to my attention, that many streams in this vicinity have been seined by those desiring to get their fish the easy way. A fisherman this past week said that in all his visits to the creeks he hasn't seen the condition as it is today.

Some time ago the Missouri Conservation Commission stocked the streams and creeks with fish, so that fishermen could enjoy throwing their lines into the water. But according to him, where he has gone, there was evidence the stream or creek had been previously visited by those who are not so sportsman like.

If any trace of violators of the seining laws can be found, I can assure these persons they will be handled properly. The way a real sportsman would want them handled.

SOMETHING new in a "duck-frightening machine" has been endorsed by the government experts. The machine may be awaiting the first unwary mallard which peels off and dives for an American grain field next fall. According to the Associated Press, it is a simple little device which can be hammered together by anybody with any kind of working knowledge of electronics, watchmaking, and carpentry, and is developed to put duck frightening on a scientific basis.

Charles Alldredge, public relations officer for the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Interior Department and is ex-officio duck-searing consultant, declared simply that the machine represents "the biggest advance in duck frightening game since the invention of the blank shotgun shell."

Stripped of technical detail, it is an electric beacon or optical beacon operating at night, the ducks' favorite feeding time. The beacon revolves and the light flashes on and off 70 times a minute. (That's due either to the phonograph motor or the alarm clock mechanism; it's pretty hard to figure out from the government blue-prints).

In its perfected form, the beacon turns off completely eight minutes out of each quarter hour, thus giving the ducks a false sense of security and probably causing them indignation when it snaps on again. Besides it saves juice.

Qualifying Rounds To Start At Country Club

Qualifying rounds for the Country Club golf championship will begin today, ending August 6. The first round of play will be between August 7-13, with the second round starting August 14, continuing through the 20th.

On August 21, the semi-finals will begin, concluding on the 27th, and the finals will run August 28 through September 3, it has been announced.

Awards, which were presented to the three day winners and the three men winners, were received by Mrs. L. H. Hodges, first; Mrs. Harold Heerman, second; Mrs. Norman Scott, third; Dr. J. W. Beger, first; Glenn Neely, second; and A. R. Scott, third.

Coming to the Fore

The striking picture above, of Republican presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey, was taken as he swung down the fairway of the Quaker Hill golf course near his Pawling, N. Y., farm. He was forced to play by himself, because his favorite foursome was broken up by attendance at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

Twilight-Community Leagues Near End Of The Season Play

A full schedule of softball games is in store for the local fans this coming week as the teams in both the Twilight and the Community leagues approach the end of the 1944 season of play.

Games on Monday

Monday evening the Reclaimers from the Missouri Pacific will cross bats with the team from Section A "Mitchell Bombers" from the Sedalia Army Air Field, while the second game of that evening will be between Rosen-thals and the S. A. A. F. Officers. Losers of these two games will be eliminated while the winners go on Wednesday night for the right to enter the finals the following week.

Wednesday Schedule

Also scheduled to play Wednesday night are the Sacred Heart team and the Pepsi-Cola aggregation winners of the first round games during the past week.

"All-Stars" On Thursday

Thursday night will wind up the Community League with an All-Star aggregation from the three "also-ran" teams meeting the League Champions, the Washington team.

Many interesting games should develop during these three nights of softball play and spectators are cordially invited to attend all games. All games are scheduled to start promptly at 6:45 o'clock.

Genevieve Wells In A Skating Contest

Miss Genevieve Wells, 17 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wells, 210 West Seventh street, was the winner of a third place fancy skating and dance skating contest conducted at Omaha, Nebraska, last Friday.

She was awarded a bronze medal.

Miss Wells, a senior in Smith-Cotton high school, entered the contest from Sedalia, in which entries were there from Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri.

She returned home Saturday.

Jr. Legion To Play LaMonte

The American Legion Junior baseball team will journey to LaMonte this afternoon to play the LaMonte Country team. The Sedalia boys will meet at Broadway and Ohio today at 12:30 p. m. and will leave from there.

This is the second time this year that the Legion has played this team and they hope to chalk up another victory. Both games have been played on the LaMonte diamond but win or lose the LaMonte team will be in Sedalia for a return game August 20, 1944.

Several Legionnaires are expected to make the trip with the boys as well as several fans who have signified they intend to drive up for the game. The following is the expected line-up for the Sedalia team: Thomas, ss; Livengood, 1st b; Coneey, p; Thompson, lf; May, 3rd b; G. Tuggle, 2nd b; Harman, rf; Herrick, cf; Shoemaker, c; with Rodgers, Johnson, Potts, Waters and J. Tuggle subs.

Merchants Expect Hot Game Today

Higginsville Athletics Hope For Revenge Of Earlier 5-2 Defeat

Prospects for a hot game of baseball are good for this afternoon at Liberty park when the Sedalia Merchants clash with the Higginsville Athletics for the second time this season beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

The first game played at Higginsville resulted in a 5 to 2 win for the Merchants but since that game the visitors have added several new faces to their lineup including a pitcher and are after today's game.

Manager Nichols will probably send Lefty Green to the mound this afternoon with Humes back of the plate. Ossie Shermann who pitched a winning game last Sunday will be in reserve but may see action in the game.

Several of the visitors are well known to Sedalia fans having played here in years gone by; Iman brothers and Red Simmons slugging first sacker are stars of the present team.

The probable lineups for the game are as follows; Merchants—Livengood 1b; Criddle 2b; Ellsworth ss; Woolford 3b; Weller lf; Shirley c; Nichols or Williams rf; Humes c; Green or Shermann p.

Higginsville; Harrison 2b; R. Bush lf; C. Iman c; Simmons 1b; Evans rf; M. Iman cf; Trigg 3b; Hagerty ss; G. Busch p.

Good Hunting For Squirrels In Aug.-Sept.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—The drouth-breaking rains which fell over most of Missouri last week should improve the luck of squirrel hunters, according to field men of the Conservation Commission.

Hot, dry weather, plus the apparent occurrence of an abnormal breeding season which resulted in a late brood of young bushytails, had adversely affected hunting success since the season opened June 1. Field reports indicated that squirrels were hard to find and that many of the young—preferred by hunters—were running unusually small for this time of year.

The reports of many small young being taken in July indicate an upset or delay in the normal breeding season. Although squirrels may mate from December through March, the peak of mating usually is in late December and January, according to biologists. The young are born 44 days later, or from February to the middle of March. They become ten weeks of age (shooting size) during the period between April 10 and May 25. These dates, of course, vary somewhat from southern to northern Missouri. This is the basis for setting the open season to begin June 1, which, in a normal year, is satisfactory.

Biologists state that while there is usually a second breeding season in late summer, the bulk of the young are produced in spring and that with the present numbers of squirrels in Missouri, shooting during this second, less important breeding season will not endanger the population. On the basis of these facts, the Commission feels that a continuous open season through the summer is justified because of the simplicity in regulation. The season closes Oct. 31.

Commission field men say there is still hope for considerable improvement in squirrel hunting this year. When normal rainfall returns, squirrels will become more active, and in any case the attraction of corn in the roasting ear stage will bring down to the ground in August and September, at which time the late young should be in the peak of condition.

LISTEN!

by Jim Carson

THE CHANGE THAT HAS COME ABOUT in daily program lineups as to variety and time schedules, since first we listened to the radio by means of ear phones, is a notable one and generally recognized. But, a more subtle change that has taken place in just the past couple of years and perhaps less apparent is one worthy of consideration, for it has undoubtedly even influenced the living habits of some listeners. Then, too, there are the conditions of the times with irregular working hours—and consequently irregular leisure periods for radio listening.

WHERE your "Big-time, all-star" radio shows—network and local—used to leave the air around 9:00 or 9:30 p. m., with sustainers following until sign-off time (usually midnight) they now continue in full swing into the wee hours. Slowly the tendency, too, has grown to bring the quality of daytime shows up to nighttime levels.

FOR INSTANCE, . . . those enjoying the "unusual" have shown profound interest in "We Who Dream," a 10:15 p. m. favorite on Friday nights over KMBC. Responsibility for this can rest largely in the already proved talents of Claire Niesen whose "dream voice" tells fascinating stories. . . . John Nesbitt, another story teller, offers his "Passing Parade" on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 10:15 with all of the appeal of a "stupendous" production at an early peak time in the time.

THOSE SEEKING the romantic in music for late hour pleasure turn to Kenny Baker (with an added touch of humor) on Saturdays at 10:30 . . . and "Here's to Romance" Fridays at 10:30. If it's war headline drama listeners want, they have "Dateline" Mondays at 10:15—"The Doctor Fights" Tuesdays at half past ten . . . And for those who like (and can take) their thrills and chills late at night, there's the "Monday through Friday" "Love A Mystery" series at 10:00 . . . and the Sunday evening "Inner Sanctum," an hour later.

THAT MUSIC HATH CHARMS cannot be denied, and music with mass appeal is always in demand, which accounts for the ever-growing popularity of such musical programs as "The Texas Rangers" Mondays and Thursdays at half past ten and "Presenting Al Roth" Mondays through Friday at 11:05.

IT'S BEEN A GRADUAL CHANGE—this continuing of the spotlight entertainment features until late in the evening—and, as mentioned previously, an important one, for as it has been influenced by war conditions so has it in turn influenced the daily habits of many other listeners. You know how you yourself will often stay up long past the usual bedtime only to hear a radio favorite . . . and there are millions of Americans just like you who have access to radios and have shown their appreciation of more of the better in radio shows by increased tune-in.

in such organs had been relieved. We say ours is a better method. I have repeatedly explained that irritation of a nerve sends injurious impulses to the brain; it injures cells therein which in turn disturbs function of a remote part and leads to disease. Cutting the nerves of course stops the inward passage of the pain impulse but it does not mean that the condition that had caused it has been removed.

If we adjust a vertebra and the patient's pain decreases or stops, and this happens in many, many cases, we are justified in concluding that we removed the cause. Inasmuch as nothing else has been at the point of treatment. Seeing such results in a large majority of their cases, chiropractors sincerely believe that they have something that is of vital importance to humanity.

Try chiropractic and see if it will not show you a new way to health.

Predict Victory For Wilson Bell

Wilson Bell, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, will be nominated August 1st by a substantial majority, carrying both large cities as well as the rural sections of Missouri, his campaign headquarters in Jefferson City asserts in a final preliminary statement.

Mr. Bell, the only active newspaper man running for a traditional newspaper man's office, is unusually strong in St. Louis, having a decisive edge and organized support in 24 of the 28 wards of that city. In Kansas City and Jackson county he also has the endorsement of virtually every group or faction and is expected to come out of that section with an overwhelmingly favorable vote.

In St. Joseph, Joplin, Hannibal, Cape Girardeau and throughout the entire rural portion of Missouri, Bell is reported as far ahead of his sole primary opponent and his headquarters predict that he will carry approximately 100 of the state's 114 counties.

Bell, who is now rounding out his first state office as State Treasurer, is running solely upon his own merits and upon the record he has achieved as Treasurer during the past three and a half years. During this period he has operated his large and important state department more efficiently and economically than ever before and not one cent of the people's money entrusted to his care has been lost.

His friends declare that his nomination this August, which is regarded as a certainty, will add strength and countless thousands of votes to the Democratic ticket in November, due to Mr. Bell's personal popularity and his splendid record of public service.

Sues for Name

Screen actress Lorraine Miller had no objections to being advertised as "the most cuddle-some blonde" or to the picture of herself, above, being sent to servicemen as a pin-up. But when she learned it had been issued with another girl's name on it, she was terribly, terribly hurt. Hurt $50,000 worth, it seems, as that's the amount of damages she's suing for.

Suffers Burns As Gasoline Ignites

Harry Zimmerschied, 908 South Mildred avenue, received painful burns, believed not serious, about 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon when a light bulb exploded and set fire to a pan of gasoline at the Union Bus Co., garage at Main street and Lamine avenue. Zimmerschied was treated by Dr. John B. Carlisle at his office. Zimmerschied was at work under a large bus when a light he was using broke. Sparks from the bulb ignited the pan of gasoline and the blaze quickly spread over the floor. Before he could escape, he received burns on the left leg between the knee and ankle, on the left hand and arm, and slight burns on the right hand. The fire spread to the bus but slight damage resulted. Fire companies answered the call.

Last Wednesday evening over radio station WDAF in Kansas City a number of Sedalia AAF personnel participated in a WAC recruiting broadcast, which featured F/O Jackie Coogan.

That same evening the SAAF Concert Band, Dance Band, and Orchestra presented a musical program at the War Bond Rally at the Kansas City Music Hall, Mr. Wilson conducting, and S/Sgt
